Price Lists

AudaLite is a menu price application driven by pricelists that you control.

We have provided you with an example pricelist that you can use to get going with AudaLite.

The pricelist will be available on the price list drop down within the application called Retail Test Example Price List.

This pricelist is for reference purposes only but is designed to give you an idea of how to build your own prices. You may wish to use this to get going and have a play with the application before you start to create your own pricelists.

You may also copy, edit and rename the pricelist should you wish to use this as a basis for creating your own pricelists.

Once you are happy you can start building your own price lists using the AudaLite Administrators Tool AudaLiteAdministration.
